

EvolutionIQ Named in Insurtech Insights Future50 Americas

written by Jason Kapler | July 26, 2021

In July 2021, EvolutionIQ was named on Insurtech Insights Future50 list of companies reimagining the future of insurance. This carefully curated list of innovators in the insurance industry was compiled with the help of Sørnr – the world’s leading market intelligence platform for the insurance sector. The evaluation criteria was based on a mix of People, Product and Growth trajectory indicating the highest likelihood of long term success and $1B valuations.

EvolutionIQ is honored to have made this list alongside amazing companies like Nayya, AgentSync, Sami, Thimble, Foresight Commercial Insurance, Cowbell, our friends over at Unum and many more. Our Co-founder and COO had this to say:

“Tomas Vykruta and I started EvolutionIQ as outsiders to the industry, excited to bring new technologies and fresh eyes to challenges that all carriers face within their claim handling operations. Three years later, with wide swaths of market leaders using our platform and industry veterans on our executive team, being named to the Future50 would be yet another sign that our approach is being accepted, and our ability to innovate and provide differentiated value to our customers is a clear and present reality”
